To whom it may concern

We at Interfocos, the manufacturers of Bellfires Gas fires and Barbas Wood Burning fires would like to confirm that Marble Hill Fireplaces are the preferred dealer in Central, West and South London as well as the Home Counties for large scale projects.

Marble Hill have worked with us for many years and install more Bellfires than any other dealer in the UK. They have demonstrated an ability to manage the particular issues that these developments demand. As they directly employ their own installation teams and have attained CHAS accreditation they already have the infrastructure in place to successfully complete projects of any size. They also operate an excellent After Sales Department that will maintain and service our fires to keep your purchasers happy for many years to come.

With kind regards,

Interfocos B.V.
